

Facing the combined challenges of extreme poverty, high levels of crime and public corruption, and an outdated system of laws, Haitian lawyers grapple daily with problems unfamiliar to most of the world's attorneys. Authored by Denver Partners T. Markus Funk and Douglas Sawyer, as well as Denver Associate Zane Gilmer, and produced in collaboration with the ABA Section of Litigation's Haiti Task Force and the International Senior Lawyers Project, the first-of-its-kind Haiti Trail Skills Manual provides the talented and enthusiastic Haitian attorneys of all backgrounds and areas of specialization with a broad, practical summary of the range of practical approaches geared to providing Haitian lawyers with the basic skills most useful in effectively representing a client's interests.
