Perkins Coie Hosts Master's Conference at Seattle Office

Perkins Coie's E-Discovery Services & Strategy Group hosted the first Master's Conference in the Pacific Northwest at the firm's Seattle office on July 19, 2023.

The Master's Conference is a day-long, boutique thought leadership forum, where leading professionals from law firms and corporations gather to discuss current challenges and collaborate on solutions. Frequently discussed topics include e-discovery, artificial intelligence, information governance, legal project management, forensics and investigations, data governance, knowledge management, cybersecurity and data breaches, and other current trending topics.

The agenda featured several speakers from Perkins Coie, including:

- Welcome Remarks – Katie O'Sullivan
- How To Build Generative AI for Law – Geoffrey Vance
- The Art of Collection: Balancing Privacy and Defensibility in Forensic Document Collections – Rike Connelly, John Evans, and Ryan Parietti
- Six Steps Towards Information Governance Maturity: Operationalizing an IG Program (via Policy, Process, and Technology) – Jessica Tseng Hasen
- Where Law and Technology Intersect: E-Discovery Considerations in Complex Litigation – Geoffrey Vance, David Perez and Matthew Mertens
- Cyber and Data Breach Roundtable – Erin Earl
