

Perkins Coie's Bobbie Wilson Named a 2019 Woman Leader in Tech by The Recorder

SAN FRANCISCO (September 19, 2019) - Perkins Coie is pleased to announce that Bobbie Wilson, a litigation partner in the San Francisco office, has been recognized as one of the 2019 Women Leaders in Tech Law by The Recorder.

The Recorder's annual list highlights lawyers and companies working at the forefront of technology and innovation. Wilson has been named to the list on six previous occasions.

"I'm delighted to receive this recognition, which underlines the critical role played by women in representing and advancing the technology sector," said Wilson. "It's truly inspiring to be acknowledged alongside such a group of leading women attorneys who manage complex technology cases and are bringing change and diversity to the wider legal industry."

A prominent attorney in the Bay Area, Wilson has extensive experience managing complex civil litigation, primarily in the area of intellectual property. She focuses her practice on patent law, trade secrets, class action litigation, and work place and regulatory investigations.

The Women Leaders in Tech Law honorees will be recognized during an awards ceremony on November 6, 2019, in San Francisco.
