

Perkins Coie Named to 2019 Appellate Hot List by The National Law Journal

Seattle (November 11, 2019) – Perkins Coie is pleased to announce that it was named to The National Law Journal's 2019 Appellate Hot List, an annual list of law firms that have won key matters before the U.S. Supreme Court and federal courts of appeals.

In its profile of Perkins Coie featuring partners Marc Elias and Eric Wolff, The National Law Journal highlighted the firm's role in securing two victories—in 2018 and 2017—before the U.S. Supreme Court in Virginia House of Delegates v. Bethune-Hill. By a 5-4 majority, the Supreme Court ruled that the Virginia House of Delegates' redistricting map included unconstitutional racial gerrymanders in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment.

In addition to the Supreme Court win, Perkins Coie notched notable arguments in the Circuit Courts of Appeals, including before the en banc U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit in a voting rights case challenging Arizona election laws and before the Federal Circuit, which led to a precedent-setting victory for Mylan.

Additionally, the firm achieved a series of high-stakes appellate victories in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit and U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit and in state appellate courts. Perkins Coie is also counsel in an appeal involving ownership of rare dinosaur fossils in Montana that the en banc Ninth Circuit sent to the Montana Supreme Court.

Perkins Coie's Appellate Practice includes numerous federal and state appellate law clerks as well as a former assistant to the solicitor general of the United States. The practice's attorneys are experienced in handling cases in every federal court of appeals and before the U.S. Supreme Court—members of the practice have argued more than twenty cases before the Supreme Court and have briefed numerous others. The practice represents a broad range of clients, including Fortune 50 corporations, government entities, political candidates, individuals, and nonprofit organizations.

Perkins Coie is a leading international law firm that is known for providing high-value, strategic solutions and extraordinary client service on matters vital to our clients' success.
