

Partner Eric Wolff Elected a Fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers

SEATTLE (May 3, 2023)—Perkins Coie is pleased to congratulate Eric Wolff, a Seattle partner and firmwide co-chair of the Appeals, Issues & Strategy Practice, on his election as a fellow to the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers.

Election into the Academy is by invitation only and candidates have to be nominated and seconded by serving Academy fellows. Candidates are then reviewed by a membership committee and elected at an Academy Board of Directors meeting. Membership is open only to lawyers who possess a reputation of recognized distinction as an appellate lawyer, and whose practice has focused substantially on appeals during at least the last 15 years.

Eric is an established authority on questions of federal jurisdiction, removal, and forum non conveniens. He has written hundreds of briefs across a wide array of issues in both trial and appellate courts. Eric has argued over 35 appeals in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, as well as numerous cases in other federal and state courts of appeals. He was a law clerk to William Fletcher on the Ninth Circuit, Stephen Williams on the D.C. Circuit, and Antonin Scalia on the U.S. Supreme Court. He is a former head of appeals for the U.S. Attorney's Office for the District of Montana, and he has served as an instructor on appellate advocacy at the National Advocacy Center in Columbia, South Carolina.

Perkins Coie is a leading international law firm that is known for providing high-value, strategic solutions and extraordinary client service on matters vital to our clients' success. With more than 1,200 lawyers in offices across the United States and Asia, we provide a full array of corporate, commercial litigation, intellectual property, and regulatory legal advice to a broad range of clients, including many of the world's most innovative companies and industry leaders as well as public and not-for-profit organizations.
