

Chief Diversity & Inclusion Officer Genhi Givings Bailey Quoted in PRNewswire—New "UCSF Rosenman RISE" Program Connects Underrepresented Healthtech Entrepreneurs With Mentors

Genhi Givings Bailey was quoted in the press release "New "UCSF Rosenman RISE" Program Connects Underrepresented Healthtech Entrepreneurs With Mentors," on PRNewswire, regarding UCSF Rosenman RISE, a program that matches underrepresented CEO with mentors in the health technology field.

"We are proud to support this new and important program to advance opportunity for diverse entrepreneurs operating in the health technology sector," said Genhi Givings Bailey. "Health technology entrepreneurs and founders should be judged on the innovative ideas and solutions they bring to the marketplace and we believe this significant initiative will help drive positive change across the industry." Perkins Coie's Life Sciences & Healthcare Sector is sponsoring the inaugural program.

Explore more in

Life Sciences & Healthcare

Healthcare

Medical Device

Biotechnology & Pharmaceutical