

Michael Huston Mentioned in Bloomberg Law—By the Numbers: 17 Top D.C. Attorney Hires by Big Law Firms

Partner Michael Huston was mentioned in "By the Numbers: 17 Top D.C. Attorney Hires by Big Law Firms," an article in Bloomberg Law, regarding Michael's addition to the firm.

Former Biden administration legal heavyweights landed at large D.C. law offices, including former White House counsel Dana Remus, who joined Covington & Burling in early October, and Michael Huston, the former long-time assistant to the U.S. Solicitor General who joined Perkins Coie later that month.

Huston joined Perkins Coie's D.C. office as a partner in October. While with the solicitor general's office during both the Trump and Biden administrations, he argued nine cases before the U.S. Supreme Court.

As Co-Chair of the firm's appeals, issues, and strategy practice group, Huston is helping clients craft appellate strategies in "sensitive, bet-the-company matters," according to his firm web page.
