

Ted Boling Quoted in E&E News—How NEPA Guidance Could Favor Climate Projects Over Ecosystems

Partner Ted Boling was quoted in "How NEPA Guidance Could Favor Climate Projects Over Ecosystems," an article in E&E News, regarding the White House's interim greenhouse gas guidance and its effects.

From the NEPA standpoint, these numbers, these dollar figures tend to assume outsized importance," said Ted, who was a lead author of the 2016 NEPA guidance on greenhouse gases. "They just speak with such force — the number of jobs created, the number of homes that will be powered. It's the number that sticks in people's minds.
