

Brian Sylvester Mentioned in Multiple Publications Regarding Joining Perkins Coie

Brian Sylvester was mentioned in multiple publications regarding joining Perkins Coie's food and beverage regulatory and litigation practices.

"For context, over the last decade, there's been heightened attention to product labeling, advertising, genetically modified organisms (GMOs) and consumer fraud," Sylvester said. "In fact, in 2022 alone, more than 300 consumer class actions were filed against the food and beverage industry. Perkins Coie food litigators have had considerable success in countering this rising trend." (Law360)
