

Journey of the First-Time Entrepreneur

In this episode, Michael Glenn and Colin Fowler talk to Sam Thapaliya, a Nepalese immigrant inventor and startup founder. Sam had not seen a computer until he was 13 but he now develops innovative computer vision techniques. He will discuss the process involved in developing connections, hiring, and funding to support a startup and, of course, the workings of his technology, which focuses on integration of ad space onto surfaces displayed within streaming video.
