December 21, 2022 PMP @ Austin Startup Week

Michael Glenn and guest host Andy Pettit visit the 2022 Austin Startup Week Crawl. Listen in as they meet and mingle with Austin's foremost startup entrepreneurs.

The guided tour begins here:

- 01:11 Clearity Health seeks to enable affordable healthcare for all. Clearity Health is not an insurance company, but a place where individuals can compare healthcare prices provided by real people in their areas.
- 09:27 Modgarden is a modular, organic vegetable growing appliance designed particularly for the urban dweller.
- 17:18 Austin-based Creative 3D Technologies designs and manufactures advanced 3D printers and manufacturing platforms. The company aims to enable the ability to create without the typical constraints of design limitations, high costs, or supply chains.
- 24:21 Fetii offers an on-demand group transportation and ride-sharing service complete with a user-friendly app. Fetii provides franchisees with the vehicles and technology needed to assist groups and businesses on demand.
- 26:24 Fit Lift is a fitness platform that can be used on any iPhone or iPad. It provides real-time data and feedback during the user's workout, providing instant guidance on the need to speed up, slow down, adjust posture, change weights, and more.
- 35:39 Kegsafe uses state-of-the-art technology and software to provide the market's most accurate system of keg inventory management.
- 38:18 SKAN analyzes existing code repositories and issue tracker data to understand human factors and boost productivity.
- 45:01 Rockdrill Research (Space Cowboy) designs, manufactures, and launches advanced rockets and spacecraft. Space Cowboy works to rein in the rapidly growing issue of space debris.
