

Digital Services Act Webinar

The European Union (EU) recently adopted the Digital Services Act (DSA), fundamentally changing the legal landscape for online intermediaries doing business in the EU. The DSA builds on the e-Commerce Directive and regulates the obligations of online service providers that act as intermediaries in connecting consumers with third-party goods, services, or content.

Join Perkins Coie's Digital Safety & Human Rights lawyer Natasha Amlani for a timely webinar that will:

- Provide an overview of DSA rules on content moderation, data access, advertising transparency, and product design.
- Identify the types of companies subject to the DSA.
- Highlight key dates, timelines, and enforcement risks.
- Discuss short-term, practical steps towards compliance.
- Propose longer-term risk governance and mitigation measures.

In addition, we will discuss how companies can approach DSA compliance holistically and in a manner informed by business priorities, human rights, and operational constraints.
