Blogs

December 02, 2024

CFPB Finalizes Proposed Open Banking Rule on Personal Financial Data Rights

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau recently finalized a rule on personal financial data rights, implementing Section 1033 of the Consumer Financial Protection Act of 2010. This marks a transformative step toward open banking in the United States.

The CFPB's rule aims to create a more consumer-centric financial ecosystem, allowing consumers greater control over their financial data and offering them the ability to switch providers seamlessly.

Click here to read the full Update.

Authors

Explore more in

Financial Transactions Technology Transactions & Privacy Law Fintech & Payments